

"This cabinet reminds me of the great pieces by Eugene Printz from the 1920s and 30s. I love the leg and handle detail as well as the overall finish. It looks like a very rich piece. A pair of these in a big entry with beautiful ceramics or sculptures on top would look great. Similarly, a pair in a living room flanking the fireplace would be dramatic and wonderful."

+ French designer Philippe Delzers created this elegant cabinet as part of The Appartements Privés for Elitis. Delzers envisioned a modern collection with an ethnic twist, referencing long voyages and African legends. The cabinet's bronze-sculpted handles with glass cabochons appear like jeweled bracelets against a scratched-wood exterior powdered with gold.
